General Catalogue of interior doors

Unique, different and personal, your character defines your style and is reflected in the configuration of your home. Everything you dream of, what you yearn for, your aspirations and desires, and also your memories and experiences are today part of your personality.

Creating spaces to live them consists of creating emotional links with the environment you choose, filling it with powerful nuances allied with your personality.

PortStylo are doors that give life to your space.

Colours, finishes and designs carefully chosen and combined with each other offer you thousands of possibilities so that your home is as unique as you are.

In this catalogue we try to reproduce the finishes and colours of our products as faithfully as possible to reality, however, due to limitations of photography and printing techniques, there may be notable differences with reality. We will not accept claims regarding the tones, colours and finishes shown in this catalogue.

Puertas Perciber reserves the right to reduce, expand or modify the range of products presented in this catalogue or to vary their characteristics at any time.

LACQUERED CLASSICS

The lacquered door acquires a touch of distinction when we reinterpret it with classic shapes and motifs. Integrating it into different environments will give them greater personality and character with the added value of being truly timeless and as suggestive as the rest of our range of lacquered doors.

DIVERXION

José Ángel Obeso Prieto

When I started with THE DESIGN of the new DIVERXION collection of doors, it was clear that I wanted to give the new line a personal character, in such a way that it would stand out within the existing offer on the market.

I imagined a collection where the drawings of the doors allow different motifs to be combined in the corridors and distributors, making these spaces FUN places where each door is able to identify a room and at the same time integrate perfectly with the rest of the doors. So, among the DIVERSITY of models that the new collection presents, finding combinations for the corridors and distributors becomes a fun selection for the owner who will achieve very personal spaces.

My intention has been for DIVERXION to be a fun experience with a wide variety of models to choose from, which allows owners and prescribers to customize corridors and distributors by combining models or choosing just one for all the rooms. Another objective to be fulfilled was that DIVERXION adapt to the designs of the furniture manufacturers that are setting the trend in today's home decorations. To meet this objective, current trends have been taken into account and, fundamentally, are marked by a taste for furniture design that is made in the Scandinavian countries.

DIVERXION = DIVERSITY + FUN

PERSONALISATION

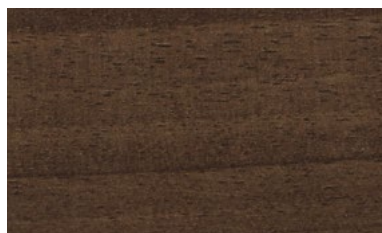

NATURE

The new ranges of our PortStylo doors redefine our offer of finishes depending on the decorative style you want for your home.

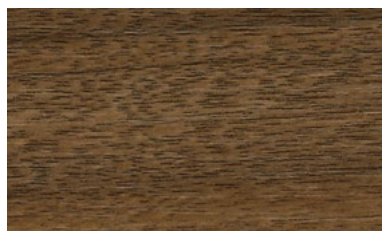

In our selection of finishes, what you can see is as important as what you can touch, because the textures are the protagonists of our finishes. Some have a soft and silky touch and others have a complex texture, let your senses discover the new sensations that our finishes transmit.
